*The roads long taper on the end a memory, unfolds at every bend Exotic tree and silver cascade fall misty mountain peaks, lotus in the lake, lush multicolored flowers at the bryant park horses to ride, pink candy floss

*The cold season with westerly winds, That brings back friends who have left, Has confused your moist eyes that have sent a message, Making your lover's departure difficult in the early frost season When clouds that pour heavily move south, the earth gets filled With water hills flourish with foliage crops near wide springs Get rooted and fragrant vines mangled by mountain dwellers, Sprout and coil around dense sandal trees

Climbing up the kodai hill station was a unique pleasure to enjoy and cherish in memory so, as to talk whenever possible! Pleasant morning sunshine, fresh green trees with flowers, healthy eucalyptus smell & dizzy ranges of hills covered with Mists and clouds were all wonderful to see, feel and enjoy in life at least once!

*Far out upon the prairie,
Today I idly roam;
This erst was called the hunters' range,
The noble bisons' home.*
